MODULE 1: OVERVIEW
TARGET AUDIENCE	Target Audience <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • State CD Agencies • Governor's office Other Audience <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Other State Agencies • Local Government
INTENT & ORGANIZATION OF THE TOOLKIT	This section serves as an introduction and description of the Disaster Recovery Toolkit. It explains the Toolkit's designed purpose and functions, its content and focus, and how it is organized to facilitate its comprehension and use by its target audience and users.

A. BACKGROUND

This Disaster Recovery Toolkit (Toolkit) is an initiative of the Council of State Community Development Agencies (COSCAR), the premier national association of state community development agencies founded in 1974 to advocate for states' interests in the areas of community development, including affordable housing, homelessness, and community economic development.

The Toolkit was conceived and developed in response to the recent disaster recovery challenges faced and lessons learned by COSCAR members in the aftermath of devastating natural and man-made disasters.

By helping communities stricken by disasters, COSCAR members have identified a gap in the "long term community recovery"(LTCR) arena. State Community Development Agencies (SCDAs) often have little prior experience or knowledge related to disaster recovery and need support and assistance in identifying the key steps they can take and roles they can play in support of LTCR efforts in their states following a disaster. Experience in these LTCR processes has also shown that each State differs in their approach to disaster and long term recovery. But no matter the approach, each LTCR effort involves significant cooperation and leadership at the State level, and very often State Community Development Agencies play a significant role, primarily because these agencies administer the federal Community Development Block Grant(CDBG) "disaster recovery" funds for the State.

B. INTENT OF TOOLKIT

Based on members' input and needs, COSCAR developed this "Toolkit" to address the role of State Community Development Agencies in long term recovery. The Toolkit provides guidance to State Community Development Agencies on the issues to consider, without prescribing the activities to be undertaken in disaster recovery. The Toolkit provides information on the types of disaster recovery assistance available from federal programs in the key areas of economic development, housing, infrastructure, and public facilities to assist COSCAR members in their efforts to help their states and local communities to successfully coordinate, plan and implement their long-term disaster recovery efforts.

C. TOOLKIT ORGANIZATION

The Toolkit is comprised of five Modules. These modules are further supported by a Reference Library that contains relevant examples, sample documents, templates or other aids such as guidebooks.

While the Modules are sequentially numbered, the Toolkit is NOT a linear document that requires the user to review all Modules before fully utilizing its benefits. The Toolkit is designed for each Module to stand on its own and intended to allow target users to simply pull out the module that matters to them and their mission. Each State Community Development Agency may use a Module when applicable to the disaster situation or to provide further information to supporting agencies that may not have experience in the disaster response and recovery process.

D. TOOLKIT AUDIENCE

While State Community Development Agencies are the primary audience for this Toolkit, the Governor's office, State Legislatures, other State agencies, and local governments may also benefit from the information and guidelines contained in the Toolkit.

At the beginning of each Module, the audiences are identified. These audiences may vary from state to state and will vary depending on how the recovery effort is organized in each state.

For instance, Module 3 addresses two key audience/users. It describes the important role State Community Development Agencies (State CD Agency) often play in coordinating the numerous participants, priorities, resources, and processes to overcome obstacles and maximize disaster recovery efforts. However, Module 3 also focuses on what the state governments, particularly the Governor's Office and the State Legislature, may do that can further support State CD Agencies and expedite recovery, such as establishing policy or regulations that should be established pre-event or waived post event.

E. MODULE CONTENTS & TOOLS

Tables for Modules 2 to 5 are provided below to highlight the focus of each Module in terms of target audience, content, tools and reference materials. Each table also appears in the beginning of its respective module.

MODULE 2: GENERAL DISASTER RECOVERY

TARGET AUDIENCE	Target Audience <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • State CD Agencies • Governor’s office Other Audience <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Other State Agencies • Local Government
OBJECTIVE	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ Assist State CD Agencies in selecting and preparing for the role they may be assigned to play in bringing about long-term recovery in their state and their local communities after a disaster event
TOOLS	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ A “self-assessment” tool for State CD Agencies to evaluate what role they may have in leading long-term recovery efforts for their states. The self-assessment allows a State CD Agency to assess what capacity and capability (i.e., organizational, staff, financial or technical) is necessary to successfully undertake the mission.

Module 2 - Subsection Contents & Focus

A. DISASTER RECOVERY	This section provides an introduction to Disasters; what they are and how they are classified. In addition, this section discusses the State and Federal Disaster Declaration process.
B. PHASES OF A DISASTER	This section discusses the four general phases of a disaster and provides an overview of the various activities, which take place in each phase of a disaster, and how one element leads into and impacts the next.
C. THE DISASTER CYCLE	Disasters are not linear. The Disaster Cycle discusses the non-linear, continuous process through all four phases of a disaster. This section also provides the general roles and activities within the “disaster cycle”.
D. RESPONSE AND RECOVERY CONTINUUM	The continuum is a generalized timeline and sequence of events for response and recovery activities. The section covers the general steps involved in the response and recovery process, but does not make a determination as to who will be responsible for these steps.
E. THE ROLE OF STATE COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT AGENCIES FOLLOWING A DISASTER	Following a disaster there are many questions, issues and needs that arise. This section outlines the basic role of a State CD Agency and identifies key questions the State CD Agency should consider when determining their role and structuring their efforts related to disaster community recovery.

OBJECTIVE	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ Assist the State CD Agencies and the States' higher authorities in understanding and successfully coordinating their state recovery efforts: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➢ Module 3 focuses on how successful coordination can help to create opportunities for streamlining and complying with the myriad of federal and state regulatory requirements, and for capturing and leveraging recovery resources (i.e., financial and technical) from public and non-governmental sources ➢ Module 3 also discusses the various organizational and legal frameworks that a State may establish for disaster recovery; and within which a State CD Agency may have to operate for recovery; Also, what policy and/or procedure should be established pre-event or quickly post event to support the State CD Agency's role in recovery and expedite the recovery process ✓ The importance of an Action Plan in the context of recovery
TOOLS	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Action Plan Template ▪ Waiver Checklist
Module 3 - Subsection Contents & Focus
A. INTRODUCTION	Recovery creates opportunity. The community has the opportunity to rebuild in a way that will improve the community in the long term. This opportunity can easily be lost if the State and the community do not utilize and maximize resources successfully. This section focuses on how to remove these barriers.
B. ROLE OF STATE CD AGENCIES AFTER A DISASTER	Following a disaster there are many questions, issues and needs that arise. Many agencies and organizations participate in the disaster response and recovery process. Each agency, including State CD Agencies, should ask some basic questions of its organization and staff to ensure it is prepared to respond.
C. ROLE OF THE STATE	Each State will approach their role in recovery differently. This section provides examples of the different way States have addressed their role in previous disasters to support community development. In addition this section will cover the potential roles and responsibilities that Legislative, Congressional and Executive offices can play to expedite recovery.
D. KEY ISSUES AND CONCEPTS	This section discusses key questions that may assist the State CD Agency and others as to how best to approach disaster recovery. This section includes discussions on decision-making authority, methods for setting priorities, flow of funding, prioritization and communications protocol. This section is intended to provide the starting point for State CD Agencies after a disaster.
E. UNDERSTANDING POLICY, REGULATIONS AND STATUTES	Federal/ State regulatory, statutory and policy requirements are described, as well as the modifications that might be useful to enable appropriate programs to be effective.
F. WAIVERS AND EXCLUSIONS	This section will be based on the experience of previous State CD Agencies in dealing with waivers for specific programs. A list of common disaster waivers and exclusions, in addition to how they are applied, will be outlined here.
G. CDBG ACTION PLAN	This section addresses the importance of the Action Plan and other strategic recovery plan(s).
